Preface

We offer this PEAN with the sincere hope that it will help perpetuate the memories of these short years.

To Norman Lowrie Hatch

an instructor most highly approved

who, while evincing skill in many things, evinces it most fully in his grasp of the Latin language, his pupils, well remembering this, dedicate this book. The hearts of such as remember, lodge a store of gratitude for good offices done them in the past. All who come here for instruction find in him a most energetic guide to direct them as they enter upon this course of study. The very principle which he laid down for himself early in life is the one which, now a liberally educated man, he zealously enjoins upon others: each one of those under his instruction is to see to it that he let no day pass without adding something to his store of knowledge whereby he may make progress towards culture as his goal. Towards the achievement of this end whatever the master can contribute by way of sound advice, or a word of encouragement, or by timely aid; whatever he can effect by virtue of the art of exposition, skill in which enables him to know how to simplify very many things that in themselves are exceedingly difficult,—all this he generously offers and extends to them individually. It is not at all surprising, then, that today all who are capable of forming some estimate of ability are agreed that he is splendidly serving the interests of the Academy.

Senior Class

WE, the graduating class of 1934, have now come to the end of our years at Phillips Exeter Academy. While we have been here, we have derived much from Exeter; and we hope that we have done our small share toward making this school a finer place. Three and four years ago we looked upon the Seniors with awe, little realizing how soon we were to hold their positions. Next year we will again find ourselves at the bottom of the ladder; but we know that the experience that we have derived at Exeter will help us on our way both in college and in later life. We owe Exeter more than we can ever expect to repay her. Every year that passes from now on will teach us more and more to appreciate the invaluable training that we have derived from Exeter. At times the way may have seemed steep and rocky to a great many of us; but as graduation approaches we can think of nothing but the good that we have received from our school.

We are privileged in being members of one of the largest, if not the largest, graduating classes in the history of Exeter Academy. We have led the school through one of its most successful scholastic and athletic years. We have for several years enjoyed the benefits of the gift of Mr. Harkness and the work of Doctor Perry and the other faculty members. Yet we have not seen enough of life to appreciate fully what we have derived from Exeter. We came to Exeter to learn how to be men; and we now realize that we have not wasted our time. We pass the positions of Seniors to the Upper Middle Class, and tell them to make Exeter Academy a still better place next year. We enter life grateful to Exeter, loyal to her hopes and traditions, enriched by our experiences here, proud of our past, and expectant of the future. We hope that we shall some day be able to repay in some small proportion the great debt that we owe our Exeter.

THE Senior Council is composed of a group of ten Seniors, selected by their own class in their Upper Middle year, out of twenty-two candidates nominated by the Senior Council then in office. This group, acting with Dr. Perry, their leader, represents the student body in presenting petitions and in obtaining privileges from the faculty; they are the students' representatives. Composed, as it is, of ten selected Seniors, and granted practically unlimited powers to express the opinion of the students, it represents what is probably the foremost student organization.

FOUNDED in 1907, the Cum Laude organization is an honorary Society among the preparatory schools throughout the country and resembles the Phi Beta Kappa of colleges. The first chapter of this Society was founded at Tome School in Maryland and the second here at Exeter. In twenty-five years the Cum Laude Society has increased greatly, for there are now chapters in more than eighty different schools.

The Cum Laude has four different classes of members: charter members; honorary members, two of which are elected annually; faculty members, who must be either Phi Beta Kappa or Sigma Xi members; members who are chosen from the first fifth of the graduating class. Elections to this Society are made three times during the year; at the end of the fall term; in the middle and at the end of the spring term.

THE Four-Year Club was theoretically founded in 1784, and consists of students (usually Seniors) who have been in the Academy for four years or more. The Four-Year Club does not hold any annual picnic or banquet as do so many other organizations, and therefore their one time for recreation comes on the day when they all gather together to have their picture taken. This year the Four-Year Club was in an extremely frivolous mood when that day came around, and the net result was that the picture has been carefully put away, to be used only in case one of the group should some day find it necessary to prove himself insane. We sincerely hope that the 1935 Pean Board will be more successful than the present board in procuring a picture of this noble organization that will be suitable for publication.

Upper Middle Class

YOU, the Upper Middle Classmen, will next year be the leaders in the life of this great school. We, the Class of 1934, hand down to you all the responsibility which rests upon the shoulders of Seniors, with the hope that you will uphold the ideals and traditions of the Academy. You have not been an exceptional class, yet you have borne yourselves well and are worthy of praise. You must, before you enter upon your new duties, realize the step you are taking. From looking with awe at the Seniors, you must make the rest of the school look at you with pride. You will have more freedom, but you must not abuse it. Your work will be harder, yet you must not become discouraged. You must try to broaden your outlook and must not be snobbish. Finally, you must make both the faculty and the undergraduate body respect you. We, on parting, have no fear that you will not be able to hold the friendship of the people who, in the past, have loved the school; or that you will not be able to make many new friends with the aid of your upright and courageous Exeter Spirit.

ERNEST S. MERRILL, JR.
Secretary

Lower Middle Class

IN the past year, you have been preparing yourselves for the more mature position of Upper Middlers. As second year men, you have done fairly well. On the athletic field you have battled for the honor of your class and, needless to say, you have done well. Already, you have begun to disregard your "preppish" tactics and act more like the Exeter man. Your next year will be one of supreme importance to you. You will be looked upon by the lower class-men as their superiors, and you should do all that is possible to set the proper example for them. If you are interested in any form of athletics, do not hesitate to try out for one of the teams. Go out for them and give the best that's in you. Perhaps too, some of you have already found the advantages of being on one of the school publications. If not, it's never too late to start. Your parents may have made a tremendous sacrifice in sending you to Exeter. Reward them by doing as well as possible in your studies. In the next two years the school's future rests upon your shoulders. Do your part to help carry out the task that has been assigned to your class, and you will feel proud that you have helped in the fulfillments of the Lower Middle Class. THE PEAN on behalf of the class of '34 wishes you all possible success in your remaining academic years.

Junior Class

AT last you have reached the end of the academic year. Although you may have attended a boarding school before you came here, you found it hard to conform to Exeter standards. You felt shy about taking any interest in extra-curricula activities and studied hard to make the grade. Now that you are acquainted with the customs of the school, however, you should return next year with the intention not only of making a name for yourselves in the class room, but also of becoming a part in the many outside activities. Try out for some Academy team; "heel" for some publication; sing; debate; in short, get out of the rut and show the rest of the school that you are worthy of being called an Exonian. The responsibility of initiating next year's new boys rests principally upon your shoulders. Show them what an Exeter man is. You came here to be men. Consequently, casting aside your "preppish" attitudes, prove that you no longer deserve to be called "preps," but true Exonians.

Debating

IN its one hundred and sixteenth year in the Academy, debating became one of the most popular extra-curricular activities in the school. Both the Golden Branch and the G. L. Soule Societies enjoyed increased membership. There was a debate every Wednesday, each of the clubs holding one every other week. The two most outstanding intramural contests were a grab bag and a faculty debate. The former caught many men off their guard as they did not know what their topic would be. The second was on the question: Resolved:—Do it now. In this the faculty team was defeated by the student representatives of the negative side.

In outside debates, the school did very well, defeating both Harvard and Andover. In the Harvard debate, Kaufmann and Cumming successfully defended the N. R. A. In the annual Andover contest, Cumming, Kaufmann, and Turner, upholding the negative side of the topic, Resolved: That the United States should adopt the essential features of the British system of radio operation and control, defeated, for the fourth consecutive year, a very strong Blue team. The decision of the judges was two to one in Exeter's favor.

Lantern Club

THE Lantern Club has enjoyed this year one of its most successful seasons as the literary society of the school.

Of the many meetings held during the course of the school year, the Tuesday evening speeches by men prominent in the literary world, were by far the most interesting. Among the speakers were Professor Howland, Ernest Poole, Mr. Beech, Arthur Perry, and Mr. Williams, a member of the faculty recently returned from abroad. The most entertaining speeches were given by John Bakeless on "Behind the Editorial Scene" and by Leon Pearson on "West Indian Ballads".

For the second successive year, informal Saturday night suppers were held by the members. These gatherings are fast becoming more popular. As usual, the season was formally ended by a banquet, given for the old members by those newly-elected.

The Exonian

THE Exonian is the oldest preparatory school paper in America, having been founded in 1878 by three undergraduates, Balch, Mariett, and Needles. For the first ten years of its existence the paper consisted of cartoons, poems, and editorials gathered by its editors. But, since this first decade, the paper, now published semi-weekly, has contained editorials and articles dealing in the main with news of the Academy. In the past few years, however, this policy of printing only school news has been followed less strictly. This year the Exonian ran a column called "Phillipics," composed of notes extracted from the Andover paper, The Phillipian. This year's editorials were concerned mostly with opinions of the various student activities. The column entitled "N Everything," notes on school activities not important enough for full articles, was one of the most popular features. As a result of the resignation of the president-elect early in the fall term, the paper was compelled to elect a new president. A capable man was found, and under his guidance the paper has maintained its high standing. Many turned out at all the competitions, and the vacancies on the board have been capably filled. The Exonian, in the competition held by the Daily Princetonian Newspaper Association, has been able to rise from a nineteenth place tie with the Andover paper to eighth place through the efforts of these undergraduates. News of interest to the student has been given all year in an impartial and entertaining manner, and the whole student body has appreciated the board's efforts. THE PEAN wishes to take this opportunity to extend its hearty congratulations to the Exonian board for a difficult task which has been so well completed.

The Review

THE Phillips Exeter Review, published for the first time this year, enjoyed a very gratifying patronage from the outset. Its predecessor, The Monthly, was founded in 1886 and had been considered one of the better preparatory school magazines. Of late, however, it had been unable to meet the demands placed upon it by the student body. In order to continue, it was apparent that drastic changes would have to be made. Consequently, this year, the editors decided to change the book from a monthly to a tri-annual publication. In this way more care would be observed on the editing of stories. The device has proved successful and its enhancement to the literary value has been approved by the entire school.

The Review is published by a board of editors, but contributions are gladly accepted from boys who are not on the editorial staff. We hope the Review will continue to be as successful as in the past year and that the literary tone will continue to be as high as it is now.

THE Musical Clubs, in their third year under the direction of Mr. Arthur Landers, had fully as successful a season as last year. An unusually large and enthusiastic group of over one hundred and thirty boys tried out for the Glee Club; while the Orchestra, the largest in years, had thirty-five members. After presenting the annual Fall Dance, which was a great success, the Clubs gave, in December, their first concert for the school. During the winter term small Choruses composed of members of the Glee Club assisted at the Gilbert and Sullivan teas. The Orchestra, on the other hand, gave one entertainment at morning chapel. The first trip was taken in January to Bradford Academy at Bradford, where the combined Bradford and Exeter Glee Clubs, assisted by the Orchestra, presented a concert. In the spring, however, the height of the season was reached when concerts were given on four consecutive week-ends in April. The first, the annual joint concert of the Exeter-Andover Musical Clubs, was well received by a large audience in the Academy Chapel. At Rogers Hall in Lowell, the following week, the Clubs gave a short informal afternoon concert and were honored with a dance in return. In the third week of April the Musical Clubs were host to the Wellesley Glee Club, which, together with the Exeter Glee Club and Orchestra, presented one of the most successful concerts of the year. The final trip was made on the last Saturday in April to Beaver Country Day School in Chestnut Hill, where a fitting concert was given, bringing the season to a close. Mr. Landers is to be congratulated upon the success of the Clubs this year and upon the excellent work he had done in stimulating interest in music in the Academy. Through his work informal victrola concerts, chapel musicals, and recitals were given during the school year which served to increase greatly the interest and appreciation of music in the student body.

Dramatics

THE Dramatic Club, after Mr. Barrett's resignation as adviser, adopted the new policy of having three advisers. Mr. Mayher, Mr. Balch, and Mr. Robinson were chosen; Mr. Mayher and Mr. Balch alternated in the directing of the plays, while Mr. Robinson attended to the business end. By this system the Dramatic Club not only was able to have both a fall and winter production, as in former years, but it also put on two one-act plays in the spring.

A week before the Christmas vacation, "The Perfect Alibi" was given. This mystery-comedy by A. A. Milne, laid in a drawing room in a mansion in Sussex, provided many thrills and comical situations for the audience throughout its three acts. Both the acting and the staging were very effective.

At the close of the winter term, in direct contrast to the fall play, "Sun-Up," by Lula Vollmer was presented. This three-act play was laid in a hut in the North Carolina mountains and dealt with the simple frank people of that country. The acting in addition to the scenery made this production worthy of a professional company.

In the middle of this spring term, the club hopes to present two one-act plays, "In The Zone," by Eugene O Neill and "Box and Cox." The first is a drama concerning men on a ship in the submarine zone during the war, while the other is a comedy about amorous affairs.

To say the least a great deal of credit is due to the three advisers and to the President of the club for their successes.

Les Cabotins

LES Cabotins means "Ham Actors," but luckily the members of the Club do not live up to the name. The Club was organized in 1932 and had as its "raison d'etre" the promotion of student interest in France and the French. The student body has shown a gratifying interest in the actions of the organization and the membership rose from twenty members to thirty-six. The Club tries to present, through the medium of both faculty and student speakers, the true French attitudes. There are plays, given informally by the members, speeches on both history and current events, and often an afternoon given over to the playing of French games and the singing of French songs. The Club enabled many students to understand better the uprisings which occurred in Paris last winter, and to understand thoroughly Franco-German relations. The Club has done much to give Exeter boys a better outlook on all foreign relations in showing that, although people may speak a different language, in most cases their reactions are the same as ours.

Christian Fraternity

THE Christian Fraternity has completed its 78th year at the Academy in a highly successful manner, despite the depression. The Cabinet and Mr. Bartell carried on an excellent campaign and the students responded equally well, a total of two thousand dollars being amassed. This year the money was given to the Exeter Relief Society, the Rockingham County Y. M. C. A., Hampton Institute, the Berry Schools, the Students' National Y. M. C. A., the Loan Library, the "E" Book, the Band, and two two hundred and seventy-five dollar Scholarships. The only money sent out of the country was to Dr. Grenfell's Mission in Labrador, since Mr. Bartell deemed it unwise to do as formerly because of President Roosevelt's plea. Also the annual Red Cross Drive was conducted with the usual success.

The Christian Fraternity sponsored to many enjoyable lectures and teas. Among the lecturers were Johnny Dean, the Harvard Football Captain; James Roosevelt who talked on Politics; Margaret Hubbard, a famous African explorer; Kirtley Mather, the Harvard geologist; and Henry Beaton, the author of "Outermost House". In accordance with the custom originated last year the Christian Fraternity gave Gilbert and Sullivan teas during the winter with the aid of Mr. Curwen and Mr. Stucky who explained the plots of the three operettas given, "The Pirates of Penzance," "H. M. S. Pinafore," and "The Mikado". The Glee Club and certain members of the Faculty and their wives gave aid, too, in the singing of the numerous airs contained in the operettas. Refreshments were served at all of the teas, and if audience appreciation is any standard, these teas will certainly become another Exeter custom in years to come.

Social

FROM a Social standpoint, this year was extremely successful. In accordance with the custom started last year, many of the expensive details of former years were left out. The usual Fall Dance, given by the Musical Clubs, was considered quite up to the standard established in years before. The committee was fortunate in obtaining Jaques Renard for the customary tea dance and evening ball, both of which were given in the gymnasium. The orchestra's slow, rhythmic tempo proved popular with the guests; and, together with the attractive setting which consisted of a crystal ball flashing multi-colored lights on the dark blue covered walls and on the dance floor itself, caused the dance to be not only an unusual but a successful one.

The Winter Dance, given by the Senior Council, was also popular; and it offered a much needed change from the routine of everyday school life. Dol Bissett and his Orchestra, one which had already proved its worth at last year's June Ball, was engaged by the Council for the dance. The setting, composed of freshly-cut pine branches fixed on the walls and banners hung from the ceiling in various places, was unique and highly pleasing to the guests. Following last year's innovation, refreshments were served in the basement from ten to twelve. All in all, the dance far exceeded the expectations of everyone.

The Spring Dance was given this year by the Southern Club after a lapse of three years, and was considered by many as the best dance of the season. Wooding's Internationals, an excellent negro Orchestra of international fame, had been contracted for the tea and evening dances; but through some difficulty encountered on the trip from New York, the band was unable to reach Exeter. Mamie's Music Masters saved the day for the Southern Club, and their music was enjoyed by everyone. Eighty couples and one hundred stags admired the most artistic decorations that Exeter has had for years. The dance was on the whole, a great success, for everyone had a splendid time. We hope that the Southern Club will not be discouraged, and that their future dances will be as thoroughly enjoyed.

The last dance of the year will be, as usual, the June Ball. An account of this occasion must, of course, be omitted from the PEAN, but conjectures may be made. Dol Bissett has again been obtained to furnish the music, which promises to be as good or better than ever before; and judging from all possible sources, the June Ball will fittingly climax the season. Although handicapped by the effect of the depression on the available funds, the different dance committees worked diligently and were rewarded with the satisfaction of knowing that the social side of Exeter life was carried on with a large degree of success.

To the June Ball Girl

The moon tonight is clear and round and white;
The sky is deep and blue; up from the shore
Wanders the salt sea wind through the gray night
With soothing where but striving was before.
Music drifts upon the undertone
Of soft returning voices; shadows move
Like ghosts of revellers that now are gone,
And think no more of living and of love.

All this is ours; all this full soon is gone.
Though now the world is made for loving arms,
Beauty will lose its strangeness with the dawn;
The moon will lose its spell, romance its charms.
The night is Xanadu, Main street the day,
And lest we lose our chance, let us be gay.

THE football team this year had a very successful season. Five games were won, one was lost, and one was tied. In the opening game, Exeter defeated the New Hampshire Freshmen, 6-0. On the following Saturday, a strong and speedy Exeter team defeated the powerful Yale Freshmen, 13-7. The Harvard Freshman game at Cambridge resulted in a 6-6 tie. Early in this game, the Red and Gray team suffered the loss of Captain Turner. He received a knee injury which prevented him from participating until the Andover game. Two weeks later, a strong Worcester Academy team defeated Exeter, 21-7. The team failed to "click" in this game, but they came back the next week to defeat Hebron Academy, 42-0.

The Andover game was by far the best game of the season. Exeter showed its power immediately, and Miller scored early in the game. Clark kicked the point after touchdown. Andover took over the fight, and soon the score was 7-6 in favor of the Red and Gray. The game from then on was a bitterly contested struggle between two evenly matched teams. Both teams threatened often, but the game ended 7-6. Captain Turner, Clark, and Miller were the individual stars of the game, but the team playing well together won the game.

THE PEAN takes this opportunity to congratulate the team, Captain Turner, Coach Souders, Coach Bartell, Coach Carrell, and Trainer Murch for the victory in which they all had a part. To Captain Clark and Manager Gregg THE PEAN wishes the greatest success for the oncoming season.

FACING the task of building a team around three letter men to beat Andover's group of veterans, Coach Carrell worked his men through the fall and winter. During the winter, four dual meets were held, of which Exeter won two and lost two. The team started the season with a 50 to 18 win over Huntington. Following this victory, a powerful relay team was edged out in the final sprint by Andover at the B. A. A. relays. The team then defeated the New Hampshire Freshmen, 51 to 26. In the last two meets of the winter season, the Red and Gray lost to the Northeastern Freshmen, 41 1-2 to 26 1-2, and to the powerful Harvard Freshmen, 50 2-3 to 43 1-3.

In the first spring meet Exeter again defeated the New Hampshire Freshmen, this time by the score of 73 1-2 to 52 1-2. Then the strong Harvard Freshmen proved their superiority over the Exonians for a second time by swamping them 91 to 35. In the Harvard Interscholastics, Andover won easily with 52 1-5 points, and Exeter trailed a poor second with 36 1-5 points. Donovan starred, capturing first place in the broad jump and high hurdles for Exeter's only firsts. Two weeks later, in the annual Exeter-Andover dual meet, Exeter was defeated by the strongest running team that Andover has had in the past ten years. Andover took 43 out of a possible 63 points in the running events, and 36 1-3 out of the 63. points in the field events, making the final score 79 1-3 to 46 2-3 in favor of the Blue. Captain Badman, of Andover, broke his own dual record in the high jump by clearing the bar set at 6 feet, 2 1-8 inches, and Graham, of Andover, set a new shot put record with a heave of 52 feet, 4 1-4 inches. Donovan, of Exeter, proved to be the individual star of the meet, capturing two first places and two second places for a total of 16 points.

Although the season was not wholly successful, Coach Carrell, Captain Smith, and the team are to be congratulated for their hard work and good co-operation.

The elections for this year were as follows: J. M. Donovan, captain of Winter and Spring Track; H. H. Taylor, manager of Winter Track; and H. L. Young, manager of Spring Track.

Baseball

THE Academy Baseball team enjoyed a very successful season. They were undefeated during the whole of their fourteen game schedule, and were proclaimed Preparatory School Champions of New England. The first two games on their long schedule were postponed because of snow. They encountered very little opposition until they came to the tail end of the list. The Hebron team proved very able, and Exeter came through with only a three to two score in her favor. The Tilton school also put Exeter to the wall for a short time, but again Exeter won by one point. The final score was seven to six.

Andover, however, proved more able then any of the other teams. The game was fought up to the last out. The first score of the game was made by Batten, who hit a home run in the fourth inning. Kohlmann scored again for Exeter in the sixth, and Chubet in the eighth. Andover did not tally until the ninth, when Holt crossed the plate to save Andover from a shutout. Great credit goes to Bilodeau who relieved Batten in the ninth to strike out Andover's only hope of victory. There were two men on base and the count was three balls and two strikes. He struck the last man out and saved the game.

C. R. Allen and N. M. Carter are Captain and Manager respectively for 1934.

Basketball

WITH only two men returning for the 1934 basketball season, Coach Pearson faced the virtually impossible task of turning out a basketball team which would come any where near equaling the record of last year's undefeated team. Although this ambition was hardly fulfilled, nevertheless the 1934 basketball team proved itself a worthy combination. Starting the season in a very disappointing manner, losing its first two games to Tilton and Governor Dummer the Academy team suddenly rallied and defeated Lawrence, Huntington, New Hampshire Freshmen, and Tufts Freshmen in succession. Perhaps the most thrilling game of the season was with St. John's Preparatory School. With twenty points advantage at half time the Red and Gray defense suddenly wilted as St. John's staged a thrilling rally to win 34 to 31. Exeter handily won its next two preliminary games with the Harvard Freshmen and Worcester Academy.

The game with Andover saw a fighting Exeter quintet take the lead in the first quarter and from then on grimly beat back a determined Blue, 30 to 28.

A. C. Beltzner and S. T. Etherington were elected captain and manager respectively.

Hockey

THE Exeter hockey team enjoyed a very successful season. They were beaten only once, and then only by the low score of one to three. In their first game, they conquered New Hampton Academy with the brilliant score of seven to nothing. They bowed, in the next game, to a powerful Harvard Freshman team, but shortly afterwards beat Clark School easily. They next tied the New Hampshire Freshmen. After this game, they held their winning streak to the end of the season, defeating, in order, Hebron Academy, Lawrence Academy, Northeastern Freshmen, Arlington School, and finally Andover.

When they met Andover on the tenth of February, they were favored, slightly, to win. The game, however, was not an easy one; and although we won by the score of five to two, nevertheless the team had to fight to win at all. Captain Savage and Clark were the individual stars, but the whole team was behind them all the time. James A. Feeley was elected captain and Luther V. Haggerty manager for 1935.

Swimming

FOR the second consecutive year, the Academy swimming team enjoyed a highly successful season which ended with the defeat of Andover, 34-31. With five returning letter men as a nucleus, Coach McNamara built up a team with five new men and five members of last year's All-Class team which was one of the most powerful in the Academy's history, losing only to an exceedingly strong Harvard Freshman team. Captain Lemke, Stevens, Wilson and Meeker were particularly outstanding for Exeter this year. Also, the 50-yard free-style record fell, and the 100-yard breast-stroke record was tied during the season, but the lack of record-breaking performances is no indication of the great strength of the team.

The first meet of the season was held in the Thompson Pool with the Roxbury Division of the Boston Boys' Club, which we won 33-32 in a meet not as close as the score might indicate. The next Saturday saw Gardner High School beaten decisively, 42-23. Our next meet was at Harvard, where we went down to defeat before the strong Freshman team by the extremely close score of 33-32. In the following meet, however, we staged a comeback by swamping the weak M. I. T. Freshmen, 53-12, one of the highest scores ever amassed by an Academy Swimming team. Keeping up the good work, the team next defeated a rather strong Huntington team in one of the season's most exciting meets. In the last clash of the season with the Yale Freshmen, although our opponents entered the meet a slight favorite, to everyone's surprise and joy they were defeated 38-27 in a meet showing probably the best swimming of the winter, outside of the Andover meet.

Exeter entered the twelfth Andover dual meet on even terms with their rivals, but managed to eke out a 34-31 victory in an extremely close contest. The meet was featured by great strength in certain events on the part of both teams, so that the only really close races were the 50-yard free-style and the 200-yard relay. The diving was also very close, the last man being only four points behind the winner. With a rather easy victory in the medley, on which the victory depended, Exeter clinched the meet, much to her backers' joy.

Charles J. Wilson was elected captain and Guy B. Maynard, Jr., manager for the 1935 season.

Crew

THE 1933 Crew season was obviously unsuccessful. Neither the first nor second boat were able to win a race. Injuries, however, played their part, and partial responsibility may be laid upon bad breaks.

The first and second boats both lost to Pomfret in their races. The first boat's race was rather close, but Pomfret managed to win by a length. The next race with Noble and Greenough proved just as unsuccessful to the Exeter crews. The opponents winning easily in both races. The races with Tabor were also lost, giving the crews a rather bad preliminary record and an inferiority complex with which to enter the annual letter race with Middlesex. In a close race, marked by the determination of the Exeter boat, the Middlesex first crew eked out a victory by about two lengths. The Middlesex second crew easily defeated the Exeter seconds.

Frank D. Doble and Pierpont J. Wood were elected captain and manager respectively for the 1934 season.

Tennis

LAST year the Academy tennis team experienced only a very mediocre season (handicapped by many days of bad weather). It was quite a time before the first match was played. Perhaps the most gratifying match of the season was a four to four tie with the Bowdoin College Varsity.

In the preliminary season, Exeter defeated Melrose High School, New Hampshire University Independents, M. I. T. Freshmen, Quincy High School, Portsmouth Priory, and Arlington High School. Matches were lost to the Harvard Freshmen, St. Paul's School, Malden High School, and Andover.

The Academy team, although it played good tennis, was no match for Andover and was beaten nine to nothing.

Prospects for a more successful season this year are encouraging, as Taylor, Townsend, Tuohy, and Bate, all letter-men of last year, are returning.

Oscar M. Bate, Jr., was elected captain for 1934, and Nathaniel G. Benchley was chosen manager.

Golf

WITH only one letter man returning for the 1933 golf team, prospects for the season were very poor. By the aid of some excellent new material, however, Coach Crosbie managed to build a powerful team. Peterson, Captain Parker, and Cooney formed the nucleus of the team, and were ably supported by Barney, Holmes, and Prouty.

Starting the season with a victory over Nashua High, the team, at the hands of the powerful Harvard Freshmen, met its only defeat of the season. Following this defeat came successive victories over Thayer, St. Paul's School, and the B. C. Freshmen. The climax of the season was reached with a stirring 5 1–2 to 3 1–2 victory over Andover. Peterson and Parker played unbeatable golf, and Holmes and Prouty both came through on the last hole to save the match.

Coach Crosbie, Captain Parker, and Manager Ferguson are to be congratulated for a very successful season.

R. B. Cooney and A. G. Borden were elected Captain and Manager respectively for 1934.

Soccer

THE Academy soccer team enjoyed a very successful season, losing only one game out of seven. Their first game, with Quincy High School, was a tie. Their next game was their only defeat. They were beaten five to one by the Harvard Freshmen. In a second game with Quincy, although it was a tie, Exeter was much improved. The game with the Harvard Junior Varsity team Exeter won five to one. In their last preliminary game with Tilton School, Exeter again won easily. The Andover game was played in a strong wind on a very cold day. This lowered the efficiency of both teams and put them more or less on the defensive. The struggle was very closely contested, and there were many spectacular plays made by both sides; the game ended in a tie, neither team having scored a goal. In a post-season game with Deerfield Academy, Deerfield held Exeter to a scoreless tie. Congratulations are due Coach Galt for his fine work.

Robert F. Townsend was elected captain and George A. Dorr, manager for the 1934 season.

Squash

THE Academy squash team underwent a rather mediocre season caused by a lack of experienced players. As it is in its third year in the Academy, too much was not to be expected in respect to games actually won, but great progress was made in the training of younger players who will form the nucleus of future teams and eventually raise the game to the standards of success we hope to see.

The first few matches were won by Exeter, but in the letter matches with Saint Paul's School, the team lost five to nothing at Saint Paul's and three to two in a return contest on home territory.

Great praise is due, however, to Coach Bennett, who spent much time at work on the team as a whole and more on the players as individuals. He devoted much attention to younger men, and, considering the obstacles, put forward a very good team.

Robert Townsend was elected captain, and S. C. Keeler was appointed manager.

Wrestling

WRESTLING, in its first year as a recognized sport at the Academy, enjoyed rather a successful season. Although the team lost to Harvard Freshmen and Andover, the only two meets held, a squad of fifty men reported, the largest in the history of wrestling, and great outside interest was evinced in the sport by the large number of spectators at the weekly bouts and at the Andover meet. With three of last year's squad, two of last year's team, and two new men, Coach Pearson built up an exceedingly strong team.

In the first meet with the extremely powerful Harvard Freshmen, we won two matches by falls, though finally succumbing, 26-10. In the last meet with Andover here both teams won four bouts, but Andover got one match by a fall, enough to give them a 14-12 victory.

Joseph T. Gifford, of South Orange, N. J., and Alan T. Calhoun, of Tryon, N. C., were re-elected captain and manager, respectively, for 1935.

Riding Club

THE Riding Club is one of the newer organizations of the school, being founded this year by a group of boys interested in horses. Mr. Gropp was chosen as the Faculty adviser to supervise the activities of the club and to help the members plan their various activities. The members usually ride together every Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. During the winter term several sleigh rides were held for the enjoyment of those who did not mind the cold. The club intends to hold a horse show on one of the last days of the spring term. Mr. Gropp has begun to train the riders for this final enterprise in the new ring that has been built by the school for the use of the Riding Club. Considering that this was its first year, the Riding Club has had a particularly successful season.

The Phillips Exeter Academy

INCORPORATED APRIL 3, 1781
FORMALLY OPENED MAY 1, 1783

THE ACADEMY offers instruction in all studies required for admission to the leading colleges and scientific schools.

FOR ADMISSION to the Junior Class, examinations are required in English, Latin or a modern language, and mathematics. Candidates for admission to other classes must satisfy the Director of Admissions of their fitness, either by examinations or by school certificate.

IN GENERAL, students go every year from Exeter to Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Dartmouth, and many other colleges, universities and technical schools.

DIPLOMAS are given to students who honorably complete the course.

THE TUITION is $1050 a year. About seventy-two thousand dollars is divided annually among good scholars of high character, but slender means.

EXAMINATIONS of the College Entrance Examination Board are held annually in June at the Academy.

SIXTEENTH SUMMER SESSION

JULY 10—AUGUST 31

Credit is given toward graduation from the Academy for courses carried successfully in the Summer Session, and new students are admitted for the Fall Term, without examinations, upon recommendation of the faculty of the Summer Session.

Nearly forty courses are offered in Latin, Greek, Mathematics, English, French, German, Spanish, History, and Science.

The students are given an op portunity for surf-bathing about twice a week, and there are other excursions. The sports are tennis, swimming, canoeing, rowing, golf, baseball, and track. The swimming pool in the Thompson Gymnasium is open in the afternoon of every week-day.

The charge for the Summer Session is $300, covering a furnished room, board, tuition, excursions, and sports.

For admission, apply to the Chairman of the Summer Session Faculty.

PHOTOGRAPHED
IN TOTAL DARKNESS

This display of merchandise was photographed in a pitch-black room. Eastman infra-red sensitive plates were used. And the display was "illuminated" with infra-red rays produced by filtering light. During the five minutes of exposure, the photographer could see absolutely nothing of his subject.

The merchandise was not specially colored or treated . . . and of course, the negative and print were not subjected to re-touching.

To gain the national visibility which brings sales-success, today's merchandise is illuminated by the penetrating "rays" of national advertising. And to be truly effective in our ever-changing business world, such national advertising must be as fresh and new, in conception and execution, as is this modern photographic miracle.

VISIBLE INK SUPPLY

Would you like a pen that holds 102% more ink, and has an ever-visible ink supply, so you can see days ahead when it's running low? Thus you can choose your own time to refill it—it doesn't run out of ink without warning and send you scurrying around in search of a bottle of ink.

This is the pen the world has always wanted—it is now here—Parker's revolutionary Vacumatic—the sacless marvel of ultra-smart beauty, in Burgundy and Silver Pearl, now at $5, as well as at $7.50, as formerly.

Guaranteed mechanically perfect. Every kind of point from hairline to medium and broad. And every one marvelously smooth and perfectly formed. Latest models just in. Come and try them—no obligation.

Science in Education

Thompson Science Building

"WE need science in education, not primarily to train technicians for the industries which demand them, though that may be important, but much more to give everybody a little glimpse of the scientific mode of approach to life's problems, to give everyone some familiarity with at least one field in which the distinction between correct and incorrect or right and wrong is not always blurred and uncertain, to let everyone see that it is not true that 'one opinion is as good as another.'"

EVEREADY BATTERIES ARE FRESH WHEN YOU BUY THEM . . .

The most powerful portable searchlight made is this Eveready, No. 2645. Using five No. 950 Eveready batteries, it has a range of 2,500 feet.

Your Flashlight Battery is really "packaged electricity" . . . . . electricity from six powerful chemicals of the type that Science knows as active. Naturally battery service is best when these chemical elements are FRESH. Then they have more pep and punch. Fresh batteries, that's the kind you always get in Evereadys. The Eveready "Date-line" on each battery proves it.

Not only are Evereadys fresh when you buy them. They're superior . . . . . in everything that counts. In Evereadys, you buy, for a dime, what forty years of working have taught the world's largest makers of batteries . . . . . All-armored construction . . . . a "power-stabilizer" that keeps the balanced mix of six active light-making elements in hair-trigger alignment . . . . . and a strong metal top that prevents power from leaking away when the battery isn't in use.

Georgian, an aristocrat of Stemware. One of many distinctive Libbey designs that range in price from $6 to $2500 a dozen.

Libbey CRYSTAL

LIBBEY has welcomed the opportunity to make again the clear brilliant glass that graced the table of your Mother and your Great-Grandmother. In designs keyed to the spirit and decorative backgrounds of today, as well as in the designs of yesterday, this crystal is as fine as any the hand of man has ever fashioned. It is hand-blown and hand-cut by that fast-disappearing artist, the master glass craftsman. Small wonder that its flashing beauty lends such elegance to proud tables.

There could be a no more perfect gift than one of fine Libbey Crystal . . . a dozen salad plates . . . a stemware service . . . a decorative bowl. And, you will be glad to know, they are well within the reach of the most modest income.

A Different Kind of Gum

Take the Beech-Nut flavor for example—pressed from tender, green mint leaves grown under sunny skies and selected for ripe luscious flavor. No wonder Beech-Nut Gum tastes better—so cool and refreshing. Every stick of Beech-Nut Gum has this delightful flavor—and every stick will show how much more enjoyable the Beech-Nut kind of gum really is. Blended with nature's choice chicle, this carefully selected mint flavor makes the most satisfying gum you ever tasted. Look for the familiar yellow label and the name Beech-Nut Gum.
